Freda Han is one of the partners of Chang Tsi & Partners and also serves as a Vice President of Beijing Lawyers Association (BLA).

Freda has long devoted herself to the work of the BLA and Beijing Xicheng Lawyers Association (BXLA). She is not only a self-disciplined lawyer, but also sets an example for many young lawyers who have professional ideals. Freda set up the "Criminal Defense Lecture at the Peking University Law School, which provides a platform for legal experts and reputed lawyers to deliver lectures and for interns and students from the University to study and discuss criminal defense skills together, and now the program has become a cradle of eloquent lawyers.

"People-oriented services" is the creed to which Freda Han always adheres in her work, especially in handling legal affairs involving national policies and social stability. In the case of a Beijing state-owned assets company involving bankruptcy and reorganization in Neijiang, Sichuan, Ms. Han, as the authorized attorney, based on the humanized concept to properly settle the problems concerning more than 15,000 employees of the company, thereby indirectly dealing with the living issues of more than 50,000 people and assisting the local government in resolving the social conflict. Her contribution to a harmonious society has been praised by the State-owned Assets Supervision and Administration Commission (SASAC) of the State Council, Beijing Municipal SASAC and Sichuan Provincial SASAC.

As a female legal practitioner, Freda Han always considers herself responsible for "vulnerable groups" and "public welfare", and encourages the colleagues in the firm to jointly support social welfare undertakings such as legal aid. With regard to a client suffering financial disadvantage, she often makes her every effort to handle the situation, such as filing an application for suspension or exemption of litigation fees. As she said, kindness is the true balance in one's heart, and being a virtuous and good lawyer is far more important than being a rich and famous lawyer. Ms. Han has won the recognition from the clients, the peers and the judiciary with her profound basic skills in law and a high sense of social responsibility and mission, and thus she was awarded the title of "Advanced Individual in Beijing's Judicial System". Freda Han has never forgotten why she began her career and kept in mind what she should do. With her practical actions, she is composing a more brilliant chapter of an outstanding legal worker.
